Description

A short 2D game. Set in a tropical island in the Philippines, play as a volunteer for the Turtle Conservation Society! Explore the town, talk to the locals, and take on tasks that will save the turtles and the environment. Solve mazes, save turtles, segregate waste, and upgrade island facilities!

Project Objective:

Plastic pollution is a global issue. It hurts marine and forest life. While there is no immediate solution that can eradicate a problem of this scale, we can show you the little ways in which we can slowly overcome this. The game aims to educate the player in the responsible use and ways to discard plastic.
